About Sedona Red Rocks

The Real One

Welcome to Sedona Arizona! Sedona is located in central Arizona 20 miles south of Flagstaff, and 80 miles north of Phoenix. Beautiful red and orange sandstone rock formations, formed by millions of years of erosion, provide for a stunning, picturesque landscape. These very rocks attract millions of visitors each year, and are why KSEZ, Sedona airport (located on a plateau in the center of this stunning landscape), is deemed "America's Most Scenic Airport".

Sedona Red Rocks by X-Codr Designs

Now, with the Sedona Red Rocks package, you can enjoy this incredible landscape from the comfort of your own home in Microsoft Flight Simulator! Flying in and out of Sedona, casually or for landing challenges, will never be the same again! With vibrant, sharp rock formations all around, there is tons to see, and every approach is spectacular! And with the right conditions at sunrise or sunset, the rocks come alive appearing as though they are on fire with their vivid oranges and reds.
